DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 to 4, 7 to 9, 11, 14 to 17, 19 to 23, 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Goesele et al (6,150,239).

The Goesele et al reference teaches a method of separating a layer from a substrate, note entire reference. A substrate, which can be diamond, silicon, or III-V materials, is placed in a chamber and an epitaxial layer is grown, note col. 3 lines 10-30. The epitaxial layer can be the same as the substrate or different materials and composed of materials similar to the substrate, note col. 3 lines 40-50. There can also be a silicon oxide layer on the substrate prior to the epitaxial growth. The layer can also be multi-layers. The structure is then treated with a hydrogen implant to a level in the substrate. The structure is then annealed and the epitaxial layer is separated with some of the substrate, note examples,

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5, 6, 10, 12, 13, 18 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Goesele et al.

The Goesele et al reference is relied on for the same reasons as stated, supra, and differs from the instant claims in the specific implant step and layer thickness. However, in the absence of unexpected results, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to determine through routine experimentation the optimum, operable implanting steps and layer thickness in the Goesele et al reference in order to create the desired defect layer in the substrate and thickness of the layers so that during separation there is no breaking of the wanted structure.
